

BERLIN EDITOR JARS GERMAN

Praises President Wilson,
Rebukes Traducers, Bids
Germans Use Sense.

Berlin, Germany, May 6.—After figuratively taking the public's breath away two weeks ago by a daring article captioned "If I were Wilson," Maximilian Harden today returns to an exhaustive defense of president Wilson, his policy and the American standpoint.

In a leader in the Zukunft, entitled "The Real Wilson," Herr Harden praises president Wilson as a "man of high moral and high spiritual character of whom we might be proud if he were ours."

"Ninety-nine one-hundredths of all the so-called war literature," Herr Harden continues, "should be sent where it belongs—to the paper mill—and the public should return to books from which a wide awake spirit speaks, including president Wilson's 'The New Freedom.' Then, perhaps, some common sense will return to you and awaken you to the duty of respecting the dignity of foreign people."

Wilson, Brave Opponent of Evil.
Herr Harden follows with a brief characteristic of president Wilson in which he calls the president "a brave opponent of evil and abuses," and alludes to him as "actuated by a love for his people and possessed of the will to lead them to the heights of his ideals after they had got into the swamp land."

"Germany," he adds, "should be ashamed of people who slander him because they have read calamity in newspapers."

Better Examine Ourselves.
"In all his controversies with Germany," says Herr Harden, "president Wilson has acted from absolute conviction. Dare we measure by the standard of a student's squabble the complaints of a great free nation, led by a man of the weight and importance of president Wilson? If president Wilson, after a thorough investigation, is convinced that warlike acts of Germany have broken the laws of humanity, it was not only his right but his duty to talk with clearness. He owes this not as a duty to himself, but to us."

EL PASO CLUB IS A DOOZE CLUB

Newt. Bassett's Social Club
Closed by Permanent Injunction.

Another invented social club has been permanently closed by injunction. It is the El Paso club, and a jury in the 24th district court returned a verdict Friday evening making the temporary injunction permanent.

The suit was against the club and Newton C. Bassett as manager, and closed permanently the club which is located in the basement of the Two Republics building.

Evidence introduced at the hearing of the case showed that liquor was sold and that the club featured were only a side issue of the bar.
